

Ready For Another Voyage!

Welcome new recruit! You have been selected for The Imperial space program to become a part of the Navis Imperialis. The Imperial Navy, or Navis Imperialis in High Gothic, is one of the armed forces employed by the Imperium. While the Astra Militarum (or Imperial Guard) is responsible for the Imperium's ground forces, the Imperial Navy is responsible for the fleets of warships that soar between the stars and planets in the Imperium as well as engaging threats both inside and outside the Imperium's borders. The Imperial Navy is the military arm of the Imperial Fleet and was, until its separation after the Horus Heresy, a branch of the Imperial Army.

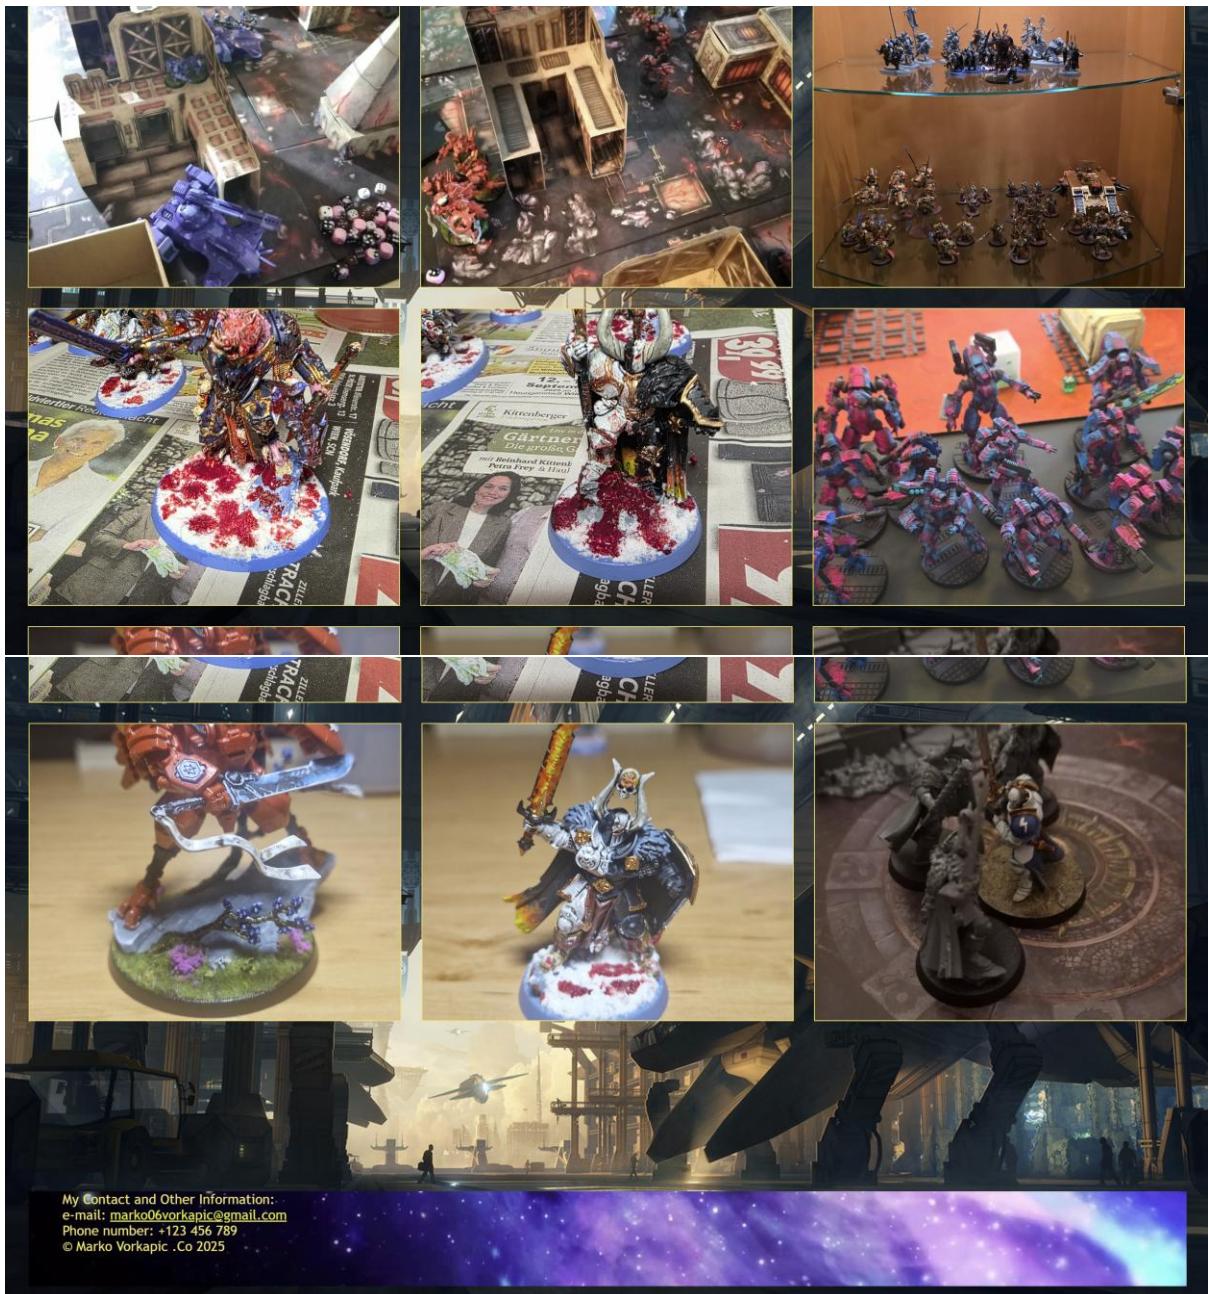

Fleet Structure The Imperial Navy is organized into five fleets, each assigned to one of the Segmentae Majoris. Each fleet is named for the Segmentum in which it is based, such as the Battlefleet Gothic. These fleets are then subdivided into smaller fleets patrolling individual sectors and subsectors, and are also generally named after the area they safeguard. For example, Battlefleet Gothic protects the Gothic Sector. The Imperial Navy's administrative center is the Naval Headquarters on Terra. Fleet Headquarters Segmentum Solar : Mars Segmentum Pacificus - Hydraphur Segmentum Obscurus - Cypra Mundi Segmentum Tempestus Bakka Segmentum Ultima - Ker Dunash

Me as Lightning McQueen(my idol)

A hobby I really enjoy, Warhammer!

Every model here is painstakingly assembled and hand-painted by me! That is the point of the hobby though. A lot of time investment for a great outcome, plus you can play tabletop games with them.
